Task A: Explain, and find at least two comparing examples in the web for the following points (quoted from W3C) to your colleague group:

Group A:

- XML looks a bit like HTML ...
- XML is a family of technologies ...

Group B:

- XML is verbose by design ...
- XML leads HTML to XHTML ...
- XML is modular ...

Task B: Each group has to find a license-free XML-Editor and explain its colleague group the advantages and disadvantages of its choice.
